

Don't forget to join us also at da' House each Monday and Wednesday at 7:30pm for Line Dance classes, and now African American historical Films on Thursdays at 6pm. So do come to meet the family at Da' House located at 105 Main street in historical downtown Indianola.....

Once again, I would like to encourage everyone to please support the arts and education in the Delta, by attending one of these truly wonderful cultural events and by tuning in weekly to the Delta Renaissance Show, just before Saturday Night Live. This week I will be speaking Mr Hermon Johnson, of Mound Bayou speaking on behalf of Khafre Inc about the Cotton Pickers of America Monument project. Remember the full version of Delta Renaissance airs every Saturday evening at 10pm on NBC.....

This has been Sade Turnipseed inviting you all to stay connected to your culture, right here on WABG, DELTA FOX-10 and NBC 33. If you are planning an event that you would like to share, please don't hesitate to send it in to me at: deltarenaissance@aol.com, or fax it to 662.887.2900. And to get more information about all of these events and more you can visit Delta Renaissance online at www.DeltaRenaissance.com.

Hey Ya'll! I'm Sade Turnipseed your host of Delta Renaissance the number one cultural arts talk show in the Delta. This segment is dedicated the entire staff at Mississippi Action for Community Education AKA MACE, who led blues lovers to yet another successful Mississippi Delta Blues and Heritage Festival this past Saturday. Congratulations team MACE. Now your Delta arts updates.....

Give my poor heart ease is a photographic study by professor William Ferris that gives voice to the history of blues and gospel. The exhibit is on display at the Roger D Malkin Gallery thru October 26.....

Coming soon to Indianola, on Saturday September 29 is the Art and Blues on the Bayou festival. If you are an artist and you would like to be a part of the festival by displaying your hand made art pieces, you are welcome to stop by the Crown Restaurant and pick up an application. Or you may certainly call Evelyn at 887.4522 for more information.....

Also on September 29 is a Pre-holiday Community Reception in honor of Annette Turner Postmaster of Indianola. This celebration is long over due since this is the first time an African American woman has been appointed postmaster in Indianola, since Reconstruction in 1891 with the appointment of Minnie Cox. The celebration will begin at 4pm and the entire community is very welcome to come with a gift of love to da' House of Khafre located at 105 Main street in downtown Indianola.....

Also on the 29th the ninth anniversary edition of the popular Wing Dang Doodle Festival is from 8:30 am to 5:00pm, in Gaddis Park in Forest MS. The day will be packed with fun for the entire family. Please go online to wing dang doodle festival dot com, for more information.....

And on the 28th and 29th the great Ruleville Roast will be held in Rule Park beginning at 7:15am with a 5k walk and run. There will be lots of food and fun all day long. For more info about the vendor spaces and BBQ competition please do call them at 719.6655.....

The first annual Sweat Equity Investment in the Cotton Kingdom Symposium will be conducted at the Mississippi Valley State University on Thursday October 11 beginning at 9am. The organizers would like to invite you not only to the symposium, but also to the first annual Cotton Pickers Ball, on Friday October 12 at 6pm. This is the only celebration in the Delta where folks are encouraged to come to the party in their cotton picking clothes like overalls and that hat and don't forget to bring a candle for the candlelight vigil the precedes the Ball. Please visit khafreinc.org, or call 662.347.8198 for more information.
